MESSAGE.

Gentlemen of the Senate,

and of the House of Delegates:

The earnest devotion to the best interests of our State which has been evidenced by you during the recent special session of your Honorable Bodies, renders it almost unnecessary for me to make to you the usual formal communication at the opening of your regular session.

Your prompt assumption of our proportion of the National Tax is, of itself, a sufficient guarantee that the other subjects which must engage your attention will speedily be elaborated and put in practicable shape. Necessarily, the intricate nature and numerous and delicate details of those subjects will require considerable time for their consideration and perfection. That they will be thoroughly examined in all their aspects, and that they will not be carelessly acted upon by you, I have abundant evidence from what I know of the labor already bestowed upon them by your Committees.

Such care, such patient labor, are indispensable at this time. For the credit and honor of our State, we all sincerely hope that no mistake may be made; but that every act of your Honorable Bodies may be as full and as perfect as possible. To this consummation I earnestly commend you.

The condition of the Finances of the State at the close of the last fiscal year has, I understand, been fully made known to you by the Comptroller of the Treasury Department.

From the Report of that officer to this Department, for the fiscal year ended 30th September, 1860, herewith submitted, it appears that the receipts into the Treasury were one million forty-eight thousand three hundred and thirty-nine dollars and sixty-seven cents, ($1,048,339.67;) which, added to the balance in the Treasury as of 30th September, 1859, shows the aggregate for the year to have been one million five hundred and sixty-one thousand six hundred and thirty dollars and eighty-three cents, ($1,561,630.83.)

The disbursements during the same period amounted to the sum of one million three hundred and six thousand and forty-three dollars and eight cents, ($1,306,043.08;) exceeding the revenue which accrued and was received during the same period by the large sum of four hundred and eleven thousand two hundred and thirty-one dollars and eighty-eight cents, ($411,231.88.) This fact owes its existence solely to the reckless and prodigal expenditures of the Legislature of 1860.

I transmit herewith a communication from the Secretary of the Interior, in reference to the new apportionment of Members of the House of Representatives in the Congress of the United States. From it you will perceive that the number of Representatives from this State has been reduced to five; and that, therefore, it will be your duty to divide the State into the requisite number of Congressional Districts. I transmit, also, a statement, from the same Department, in regard to the population of our State, which will be found of value in the labor of forming the new Districts.

I herewith transmit a copy of the Joint Resolution of Congress to amend the Constitution of the United States; approved March 2, 1861. I submitted the same to the Legislature at its special session in Frederick city; and I believe it received action in one Branch thereof. But it was never finally acted upon, and I deem it my duty to transmit it to you, and to urge the propriety of giving it your prompt attention.

The National Sanitary Commission, at a meeting held at Washington on the 12th of September, 1861, resolved "that the Sanitary Commission urge the adoption, on the part of the several State Legislatures, of a uniform system of Medical examination for Military service." A copy of this resolution has been forwarded to me, and I submit it for your consideration.

The Reports of the Commissioner on the part of Maryland to ascertain and define the South Eastern and North Western Boundaries between Maryland and Virginia, are herewith submitted. I am informed by the Commissioner that the tracing and marking of the Western line of the State, from the "Fairfax Stone" to the Northern boundary of Maryland, was completed during the summer of 1860. The work was commenced in 1859, with the co-operation of Virginia, in conformity with chapter 275, of the Acts of 1852. The Commissioner on the part of Virginia failed to join in the completion of the survey; but it being a matter of great importance to Allegany county that it should be no longer delayed, the Commissioner for Maryland completed the work, as required by chapter 385, of the Acts of 1860.

The Commissioner for Virginia was invited to join the Commissioner for Maryland in marking the Southern line between the Pocomoke and the Atlantic; the necessary surveys for which had been made at the joint expense of the two States. No answer was received to that proposition; and the intentions of the Legislature, in this regard, have not been carried out. All the details connected with the subject are fully set forth in records and maps, transmitted to this Department by our Commissioner. I suggest the propriety of preserving those papers. They have cost the State a considerable sum, and will be valuable in the future.

I transmit herewith the Report of the Commissioners appointed by the Act of 1860, chapter 165, to define the Boundary Line between Dorchester and Somerset counties. The sum of five hundred and eighty-four dollars and thirty-seven cents was expended in the prosecution of this commission; and the vouchers therefor are on file in this Department. The map referred to in the Report is on file in the Land Office.

As incidentally connected with the subject of the Southern Boundary of our State, I transmit a copy of a petition of the inhabitants of Tangier Island, asking for the annexation of that island to Maryland.

I trust that the condition of the Maryland Penitentiary will receive due consideration at your hands. The earnings of the Institution do not pay its expenses; and it will be necessary for you to aid it by a suitable appropriation. The Reports of the Directors and Officers, with accompanying statements, are herewith submitted.

In my communication to the General Assembly at its session in January, 1860, I suggested the propriety of punishing crimes of lesser grade by confinement in the Penitentiary for a shorter period than the minimum then allowed by law. The experiment has been made, and has not met my expectation. The large number of criminals of this class sentenced to the Penitentiary has imposed upon its finances a burthen which they cannot well endure.

When the convict is received at the Institution he is provided with a prison suit. When he is discharged he has to be supplied with another suit, and with two dollars in cash. Having been confined but a short time, he has not earned sufficient to pay the expenses of maintaining him; and the difference has to be defrayed from the funds of the Institution.

It seems to be necessary, therefore, to make some changes in the existing laws on this subject. While it is manifestly cruel and unjust to punish petty offences by long terms of imprisonment, it is certain that the present mode of punishment seriously interferes with the efficiency of the Penitentiary.

Perhaps the ends of justice might be fully attained by punishing this class of offenders by short terms of imprisonment in the jails or almshouses, at hard labor. In this way they might, at the least, under an efficient system, earn sufficient to pay the cost of maintaining them. If not, the expense could be lightly borne by the several counties and the city of Baltimore, and thus the resources of the Penitentiary be relieved from a heavy charge.

I venture to suggest, also, the expediency of reducing the number of Directors of the Penitentiary, and of increasing their pay. I believe such a step will promote the efficiency of the Institution; and I have no hesitation in expressing my conviction that the pay now received by the Directors is not adequate compensation for the duties they are required to perform.

I respectfully suggest the propriety of measures to ascertain the will of the people in regard to the assembling of a Convention to reform the Constitution of our State. The time for such ascertainment, as fixed by the Constitution itself, has arrived; and the singular condition of our State and National affairs renders it imperatively necessary for us to look to changes in our organic law.

If, in your discretion, you deem it proper to take the step I have indicated, I suggest the propriety and economy of so framing the Act for that purpose that Delegates to the Convention may be voted for at the time when the people shall vote for or against a Convention. Of course, if the vote be against a Convention, the election of Delegates will be void.

Although the matter has been settled judicially, I deem it due to myself to explain the part I have taken in reference to the late contest for the office of Comptroller of the Treasury.

The Legislature of 1860 declared that A. Lingan Jarrett, Esq., was duly elected Comptroller, in consequence of alleged frauds and violence at the election in Baltimore city, in November, 1859. With the grounds of that decision I had nothing to do; therefore it would have been my duty to cause said decision to be carried into effect, had I not been fully satisfied that, in so doing, I should violate a clear and plain law of the State.

The first Section of Article 22, of the Code of Public General Laws, says that "the Comptroller shall file his bond, and qualify by making the declaration and taking the oaths required by the Constitution and laws before the Governor, on or before the second Wednesday of January next ensuing his election; on which said second Wednesday of January the term of his office shall commence."

The decision of the Legislature was arrived at, and Mr. Jarrett presented his bond and offered to take the oath of office, long after the expiration of the period fixed by law for those purposes. As I could not administer the oath of office to him without palpably violating the law, I refused to accede to his request to do so; and took no action in the matter except to endorse upon the bond offered by him my belief that the sureties thereto were sufficient. Whereupon Mr. Jarrett instituted certain legal proceedings in the premises, which were afterwards withdrawn.

Subsequently the incumbent of the office resigned, and I appointed Dr. Dennis Claude to fill the vacancy.

The Legislatnre, at its Special session at Frederick, passed an Act to enable Mr. Jarrett to qualify before one of the Judges of the Court of Appeals. He did so, and demanded possession of the office. Believing the Legislature had no power to pass such a law, retroactive in effect, I requested Dr. Claude to refuse to give up the office. Mr. Jarrett then opened an office in Annapolis, and was duly recognised by the Treasurer as being the Comptroller.

Believing it to be my duty, I caused legal proceedings to be instituted, to test the right of Mr. Jarrett to proceed in the discharge of the functions of the office which he claimed. The Courts decided that he had the right; and, thereupon, Dr. Claude delivered to him the books, papers, &c., and surrendered the office.

A portion of the indebtedness of the Northern Central Railroad to the State has been paid into the Treasury; and I have caused such legal steps to be taken in the premises as I deemed necessary.

Reliable information received at this Department in regard to mismanagement of the interests of the Maryland and Delaware Railroad Company, makes it my duty to recommend that you at once take such steps as may be necessary to a thorough investigation of the affairs of that Company.

It will be but an act of justice to a very large, worthy and industrious class of our citizens, if you adopt some stringent legislation in reference to the preservation of the Oyster Beds in our waters.

Since our national troubles commenced, large numbers of persons from other States have infringed upon our rights and violated our laws in this regard; thereby rendering the labors of those of our citizens engaged in taking oysters almost valueless, and greatly damaging the oyster beds.

Experience has shown that our laws are not efficient for the protection of this important and valuable interest; and I trust that you will be able to devise some remedy.

I have heretofore suggested the propriety of issuing licenses to catch oysters; the fund to accrue from the sale of such licenses to be applied to building and keeping in service small steam vessels, whose sole duty shall be to guard against violations of the laws in this respect. I still think the plan a good one, and believe that it will entail no expense upon the State.

I transmit herewith an interesting Report from the Rev. Ethan Allen in reference to the Records of the Executive Department. Also, a letter from John H. Alexander, Esq., in relation to an Index to the first volume of a Calendar of our Domestic State Papers, prepared by him in accordance with an Act of the General Assembly.

These matters possess great interest; and I trust that you will consider it proper to take some action in regard to them.

The Sheriffs of Washington, Frederick and Allegany counties have claims against the State for guarding our boundary along the Potomac and on the Pennsylvania line, during the excitement attendant upon the John Brown raid. I recommend that said claims be investigated by you, and that provision be made for their settlement.

The condition of Saint John's College demands your attention. That institution, by a vote of its Board of Trustees, is not now in operation; and it is proper for you to determine whether, under such circumstances, the State's annual donation shall be continued, so long as the College shall remain in its present ineffective condition, or unless the Board shall execute their trust under the grant.

It is my duty, as ex officio President of the Board of Trustees, to declare that I by no means approve of the management of the affairs of the College; and that I do not hope for any improvement in them while they remain under the control of the present Board.

The appropriation made by the former General Assembly for furnishing and repairing the Government House has been expended principally for repairs outside the building, which were greatly needed. The vouchers for said expenditures are ready for examination by the proper Committee.

No provision has been made for the payment of counsel for the State in the case of Emanuel Myers. I trust the matter will receive your attention.

I herewith transmit copies of the Correspondence between this Department and Commissioners from certain of the States now in rebellion against our Government. I transmit, also, copies of Resolutions passed by several State Legislatures, and which I have been requested to lay before you.

This is the last communication which I shall have the honor of submitting to the General Assembly. In a short time I shall exchange the cares of office for the quiet of my home. During my incumbency of the position to which, four years ago, I was called by the people of the State, I have found its duties, in very many cases, extraordinary, perplexing and harrassing to an unusual degree; and I shall be able to leave them with no ordinary amount of pleasure. Whatever may have been my shortcomings in their performance, I am persuaded you will believe me when I assert that, in every case, I have endeavored to do that which I thought was right.

For whatever of good the Great Disposer of events has made me the instrument, and for whatever of error the fallibility of my judgment has led me to commit, during my term of office, I am content to await the just verdict of my fellow-citizens, when peace and sober counsels, experience and calm reason, shall enable them to approve without partiality and to condemn without prejudice.

It affords me great satisfaction, in closing this communication, to be able to congratulate the General Assembly, and the people of the State, that, in these perilous times, the duties of this office are shortly to be discharged by one whose discretion, ability, courage and patriotism insure that he will guide the fortunes of the State with safety and honor to her people.

I earnestly pray that Heaven will abundantly help him and you in the fulfilment of the duties allotted to you; and that, through your united efforts, no harm may come to the Commonwealth.

THOS. H. HICKS.

[Appendix to House Document B.]

ANNUAL REPORT

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,

FOR THE

Fiscal Year ended 30th September, 1860.

TO THE

GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,

COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE,

JANUARY 4, 1861.

TO THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND:

The following Report is respectfully made in obedience to the requirements of Article XXII, section 9, of the Code of Public General Laws:

RECEIPTS.

STATEMENT A, of the Appendix, shows the total receipts into the Treasury during the fiscal year, which commenced on the 1st of October, 1859, and ended on the 30th September, 1860, to have been $1,048,339.67; and adding to this amount the sum remaining in the Treasury on the 30th of September, 1859, the aggregate in the Treasury for the year appears to have been $1,561,630.83.

By reference to the Comptroller's Report for the fiscal year 1859, it will be seen that the receipts into the Treasury during that year were $1,200,552.77, exceeding by the sum of $152,213.10 the receipts in the year just closed. The revenue which accrued and was received in 1860, amounted to $894,-811.20, being $97,058.46 less than that which accrued and was received in the preceding year.

DISBURSEMENTS.

The disbursements in the fiscal year, which will be found exhibited in Statement B, of the Appendix, amounted in the aggregate to $1,306,043.08, exceeding the revenue which accrued and was received in the same period by the sum of $411,231.88. In the Comptroller's last Report to the Legis-with this Department, extending through four years, he has established the character of a faithful and diligent officer.

"THE FUNDS."

STATEMENT E is a report of the Free Schools Fund and the Sinking Fund. There remained in the Treasury on the 30th of September, 1859, to the credit of the Free Schools Fund, $24,427.87, and the receipts in the fiscal year were from the tax on the capital of Banks $24,740.54, from dividends of Bank Stock held by the Treasurer for the benefit of the said Fund $11,140.66, from State 6 per cent. stock $530.16, from surplus revenue $34,069.36, and from investments made for the use of Common Schools, under the Act of Assembly of 1858, the sum of $10,413.54, making an aggregate of $111,-322.13; and the disbursements for the same period were $91,-889.90, thus leaving in the Treasury, to the credit of the School Fund, on the 30th of September last, $19,432.23.

The character and amount of Stocks held for the benefit of the Free Schools in the various counties, appear in STATEMENT G of the Appendix. The whole amount is $322,267.34. The average total receipts for the use of Free Schools are about equal to the interest, at 6 per cent., on $1,300,000, without reckoning the annual appropriation of $400 to certain counties by an Act passed at the January session, 1860.

The receipts for the use of the Sinking Fund constitute a part of Statement E, and amounted in the fiscal year to $245,387.02, the whole of which sum, with the exception of $5,157.68, was promptly applied by the Treasurer to the augmentation of the said Fund. The sum of $5,638.29 was transferred as surplus cash. The purchases made by the Treasurer, during the past fiscal year, for the benefit of the Sinking Fund, were of Currency State 6 per cent. stock $21,053.59; of 5 per cent. $217,000.54, and of 4½ per cent. $2,200. The Sinking Fund on the 30th of September, 1859, amounted to $4,582,975.22, adding the purchases made in the year, and the cash standing in the Treasury to the credit of the said Fund, it appears on the 30th of September, 1860, at $4,828,387.03.

It will be observed by a comparison of Statements E and F, thatthe stocks purchased for the Sinking Fund were obtained on an average at a fraction under par. The high price and scarcity of Maryland stock in the market, indicates the unshaken faith of the public in the ability and integrity of the State.

The control of the Sinking Fund is by law vested in the Treasurer, and its favorable condition gives evidence of his judicious management; and the Comptroller embraces this opportunity to acknowledge the hearty co-operation he has received from that officer in the administration of this Department of the State Government.

RECEIPTS FROM CLERKS OF COURTS.

The revenue derived from Licenses, from the Tax on Commissions of Trustees and Receivers, &c., received from the Clerks of Courts, will be found exhibited in Table No. 4, of the Appendix, and amounted in the fiscal year to $290,465.51; in the preceding year the receipts from the same sources were $296,489.07. The receipts from Licenses alone, amounted to $272,285.77, a falling off, compared with 1859, of $4,834.73. This may be accounted for by the alteration made in the License Law at the last session of the Legislature; the decrease, however, is quite unimportant, and the modification in the law was very properly made under the circumstances.

A list of the Clerks who were in default to the State on the 30th of September last, appears in Table No. 20.

A payment of $4,600, in accordance with chapter 305 of 1858, was made during the year by the administrators of one of the sureties of L. S. Norwood, late Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas, on account of the indebtedness of the said Norwood to the State.

The Clerks have generally been prompt in the return and settlement of their accounts.

FROM REGISTERS OF WILLS.

The receipts into the Treasury from this class of officers, during the fiscal year, were $64,074.64, an increase of $3,205.72 compared with the revenue from the same sources in the year previous. It was probable that the reverse of this agreeable result would have been experienced, owing to the law passed at the late session of the Legislature, providing "where an executor or administrator shall renounce his commissions he shall not be taxed thereon."

The Act of the General Assembly of 1860, for the relief of one of the sureties of Nathaniel Hickman, late Register of Wills for Baltimore city, has had the effect of staying proceedings against Hickman's bond, and nothing therefore has been received into the Treasury on this account.

It is gratifying to be able to state that in the past year punctuality has generally characterized the transactions of the Registers of Wills with this Department.

EXCESS OF FEES.

The revenue derived from the excess of Officer's Fees, under the 1st section of Article X of the Constitution, and section 9 of Article XVIII of the Code, for the fiscal year, amounted to $10,814.57, being less by the sum of $675.12 than was received on the same account in 1859, but more, with that exception, than was received in any previous year. Of the amount received into the Treasury, the Clerk of the Superior Court of Baltimore city paid $5,200; the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas, 617.67; the Clerk of the Criminal Court $2,180, and the State's Attorney of Baltimore city $2,816 90.

The attention of the Legislature has been repeatedly called to the difficulty and embarrassment attending the enforcement of the Xth Article of the Constitution—the propriety of a Legislative construction, and the necessity of some enactment to render it effectual, but it has been without avail. In the absence of Legislative action, such an interpretation as was deemed fair and reasonable has been placed upon that provision of the Constitution, by my predecessors in office, and adopted by me—mindful at the same time of the interest of the State in receiving the excess, and of the interest of the community in securing the services of faithful and competent officers.

AUCTION DUTIES.

The receipts from Auction Duties for the fiscal year were $13,129.08. The proceeds of these duties are received into the Treasury and disbursed to the Corporation of Baltimore city, under the 127th section of the IVth Article of the Code of Local Laws, for the purpose of deepening and improving a channel in the Chesapeake Bay and Patapsco River below Fort McHenry.

The receipts for Licenses issued to Auctioneers amounted to $5,900.

A detailed statement of the receipts on both of these accounts may be seen by reference to Table No. 2.

NORTHERN CENTRAL RAILWAY COMPANY.

There was received into the Treasury from this Company, during the fiscal year, the sum of $10,000 only of the $90,000 annuity due, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 260 of the Acts of Assembly of 1854. In consequence of this default, the Comptroller, as required by law, instituted legal proceedings against the Company, and the eminent legal gentleman appointed by your Excellency, special attorney in this case, in conjunction with the State's Attorney of Baltimore city, has obtained a judgment against it, and an injunction restraining the Company from applying the receipts of the Road to any other purpose except to defray necessary repairs and expenses, until the claim of the State shall first have been satisfied.

The quarterly payments due from this Company have been regularly received up to about eighteen months ago, and it is to be hoped that the Road will hereafter be conducted in such a manner as to re-establish its character and relieve its embarrassments.

BALTIMORE AND OHIO RAIL ROAD COMPANY.

The receipts from the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road Company during the fiscal year, ending on the 30th of September last, will appear on reference to Tables Nos. 5 and 13 of the Appendix. The returns of one-fifth of the receipts from passengers on the Washington Branch were $77,821.95; being, apparently, a considerable reduction as compared with the sum realized from the same source during the preceding year. During the fiscal year, ending 30th September, 1859, there was received from this source $119,923.11; but of this amount, $38,396.56 accrued during the preceding year, leaving the sum of $71,536.55 as the amount which actunlly accrued during the fiscal year ending 30th of September, 1859. This shows the receipts for the fiscal year ending 30th September, 1860, to have exceeded the receipts for the preceding fiscal year by the sum of $6,285.40.

The receipts for interest on Dividend Bonds Nos. 141 and 571 were $19,111.20.

The recepts from Stock Dividends on the Road, which are set down in Table No. 13, amounted to $90,636.

The discontinuance on the part of the State of her suit against this Company has fortunately assisted in relieving the Treasury; and no one can scan the figures of this Report without being convinced how important a wise and skilful management of this great public work (such as it now eminently receives) is to the interest of the Commonwealth.

SUSQUEHANNA AND TIDE WATER CANAL COMPANIES.

The revenue which accrued to the State from these Companies in the fiscal year was $71,444.54, and the sum actually received into the Treasury was $33,000, leaving them in arrear for the year to the extent of $38,444.54. This is in addition to the arrears of 1858 and 1859, which were $95,504.48; making an aggregate indebtedness of $133,949.02.

The Act of 1860, chapter 372, directed the Comptroller to state an account with these Companies for the interest and exchange on the bonds of the State for $1,000,000, issued to the said Companies by chapter 416, of 1838; and to credit thereon all sums paid into the Treasury of the State, by or on account of said Companies. The Comptroller has been engaged in the examination of this matter, and will accomplish the task imposed upon him at the earliest possible period.

TOBACCO INSPECTIONS.

Table No. 6, of the Appendix, exhibits the receipts and disbursements on account of State Tobacco Inspections in Baltimore for the year 1860. The gross receipts, it will be perceived, were $86,606.38; and the disbursements in the same period were $81,510.08; leaving the sum of $5,096.30 applicable to paying for building Warehouses, paying Interest, &c. The receipts are less than those of the preceding year by the sum of $5,827.87; and the disbursements are less than those of the preceding year by the sum of $12,744.43.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Inspectors of Grain in the City of Baltimore returned to this Department, in the fiscal year, the sum of $7,274.47; of which amount $5,346.21 were disbursed for salaries and expenses; leaving the sum of $1,928.26 in the Treasury to the credit of the Grain Fund, It appears by the monthly reports of the Inspector General, that 477,680 bushels of Wheat, and 585,656 bushels of Corn and other Grain were inspected during the year.

The late contractor for the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries has confessed judgment, with stay of execution for twelve months, for $12,500; being the balance of his indebtedness on account of his contract. The Comptroller was induced to instruct the State's Attorney to accept the judgment with such stay of execution, on account of the existence of difficulties in making out the State's case.

The Agents of Foreign Insurance Companies paid into the Treasury, for Licenses, during the fiscal year, the sum of $8,600; being a decrease of $6,200, compared with the receipts of the preceding year from the same source. Table No. 10, contains the names of the Agents, and the several sums paid by each on that account.

The Weighmaster of Live Stock paid into the Treasury, during the fiscal year, $10,053.89, which shows an increase of $1,516.87 when compared with his returns of the preceding year. The receipts are given in Table No. 12 of the Appendix.

Table No. 12, also shows the receipts from the Hay Scales in Baltimore city, during the year. They amounted to $1,282.16. In the preceding year they amounted to $686.60.

The receipts from the State Wharves in Baltimore city, which also appear in Table No. 12, amounted in the year to $3,372.24; being $710.48 less than the receipts from this source in the preceding year.

Statement H, of the Appendix, shows the total assessed value of Real and Personal Property in the State, for the year 1860, to have been $282,680,498.

Suggestions, plans and recommendations to regulate and increase the revenue and improve the financial condition of the State, are reserved for the Comptroller's Biennial Report to the General Assembly, to which Body they may more properly be made.

In conclusion, the Comptroller feels confident, notwithstanding the Exhibit herein made is not so flattering as could be desired, in comparison with that of several preceding years, that no serious apprehensions need be entertained of the ability of the State to meet her obligations; and all the powers conferred on this Department by the Constitution and the Laws, will be exerted to maintain the admirable character of the State's faith.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. H. PURNELL,
Comptroller.

APPENDIX.
